

Unwinding Time and Temporality

April 20, 2018 // 2:00–5:00 PM // IPRH Lecture Hall, 4th floor
Levis Faculty Center (919 West Illinois Street, Urbana)

- 2:00–3:00 PM “Unwinding Time and Temporality” — A presentation by the IPRH-Mellon Bio-Humanities Undergraduate Interns Victoria Halewicz (Psychology, minor in Communication), Hyun Park (English and Psychology), and Henry Yeary (English and Psychology) with Sarah Kats (Molecular and Cellular Biology)
- 3:00–3:30 PM Intermission, with time to browse art exhibits by:
Greer Durham (Art + Design)
“Portal”
Mandi Shi (Studio Art) and Lingjun Jiang (Studio Art and Art History)
“The Universe”
Camille Ruiz-Funes (Graphic Design)
“Empherality”
- 3:30–5:00 PM Panel discussion with:
Anna Dmitrievna (Integrative Biology)
“Reduced Stomatal Density for Higher Water Use Efficiency in Sorghum”
Erica Jean Hernandez (Biology)
“Influence of aquatic habitat quality on seasonal diapause induction in Cx. pipiens”
Veronica Severini (Art History)
“Scientific Illustration in Early Modern Europe”
Divya Surabhi (Biology)
“Influence of Early Experience on the Development of Depression”
Taylor Walker (Molecular and Cellular Biology)
“Genetics in the Health of African Americans: Obesity and Ovarian Cancer”
Ryan Walton (Human Development and Family Studies)
“Globalization: U.S. Food and Beverage Advertisements within Jamaica”