Author: whitney mercilus

Title: Are there Racial Conflicts within Female Athletics?

About the Author: Do female athletes get the same treatment as male athlete’s racial wise? Also do female athletic teams have racial issues among them? I will be uncovering the true of these questions. You will find out the factors within female athletics causes these questions to arise. The first idea is to find out how financial funding is integrated into issues of race. How does the U of I financial office distribute its financial funding to its female athletes, does it pertain to race or first come first serve, and is it fairly done with respect to how male athletes receive their financial aid. Next is how female teams are recruited and why is it that the team isn’t completely diversified with more mixtures of race instead of being predominately one race. Do all the issues of race come down to the insight of the coaches’ decision in recruitment and does it come to statistics of which race has the best athletes. This is why I am so interested in finding these problems in female athletics.