For the Archival Research project I propose that we work with Co-Ed. I feel the group as a whole can connect better to Lucia’s character since we live, work and study on this campus. We should research the type of life Lucia would have had during the summer at home since the book tends to skip those months. More specifically, I think a good idea would be to have Lucia work or study somewhere abroad during the summer months between her junior and senior year. This way, she is expanding her horizons and finding different paths to take after college. In doing the research we would have to look up what sorts of summer programs were available during 1924-1926, who was more typically involved and what type of work was done in these programs. Maybe Lucia can expand her writing credentials since she seems to be leaning in that directions towards of her junior year and we can expand on the idea and develop her career.
