Community Inquiry Labs (iLabs) has been developed to facilitate collaborative inquiry within and between different communities. iLabs are a Web-based suite of open source software tools that people use to construct their own interactive Web sites, contributing back to software design in the process.

Features include:
- Web text writing
- Bulletin boards
- Document sharing centers
- List tools: blogs, bookmarks, etc.
- Inquiry Unit Builder