FOR THE PRESENT ISSUE College and Research Libraries is without the direction of its editor and it is scheduled to be so for at least two more numbers. As indicated on another page, Dr. White has accepted an appointment to spend some months in China, having been granted leave for this purpose from his positions as director of libraries and dean of the School of Library Service at Columbia University.

The journal is currently in charge of its managing editor, who is being assisted by Maurice F. Tauber, assistant director of libraries, Technical Services, Columbia University, and by Byron C. Hopkins, assistant to the dean: placement, School of Library Service, Columbia University.
