HERBERT LANG
MISSILE AND SPACE PROJECTS GUIDE
by Horace Jacobs and Eunice Engelke Whitney
The first aerospace project directory!
Thousands of projects, listed from A to Z by name, acronym, or official designation. Information includes costs, developing agency, schedule, contractor, and description.

"Any attempt to round up the many missile and space projects . . . would be a task of gigantic proportions . . . The authors have covered the missile and space program from A1-F to Zuni and done a thorough and exacting job."
—Huntsville, Ala., Times

A time-saving, comprehensive reference for all planners, market analysts, scientists, and engineers in industry and government.

240 pages $9.50

TABLES OF SERIES, PRODUCTS, AND INTEGRALS
by I. M. Ryshik and I. S. Gradstein

"Extensive tables like these are difficult to obtain and then usually partly outdated. Thus, the present work fills a real need in that it collects in well-organized fashion the series, products, and integrals that are most important for present-day applications ... an extraordinarily useful work."
—MTW Mittellungen

This extensive compilation of formulas for various functions is especially designed for the practicing physicist and engineer. The book presents a much more comprehensive selection of functions than has been heretofore available, and brings up to date many well-known tables which were out-dated or even out of print. Tedious searching is eliminated, since all tables of formulas for series sums, products and integrals, as well as for miscellaneous functions, are presented in one convenient volume.

463 pages $15.00

MATERIALS SCIENCE RESEARCH,
Volume 1
edited by H. H. Stadelmaier and W. W. Austin
The 16 papers are centered on the theme of synthesizing the properties of engineering materials from the properties of their fundamental building blocks, e.g., the crystallites. Theoretical and experimental aspects of recent developments in this area are presented with strong emphasis on mechanical properties. Metals, ceramics, and polymer plastics are among the materials discussed by recognized authorities in their fields.
est. 350 pages $13.50

ADVANCES IN X-RAY ANALYSIS,
Volume 6
edited by William M. Mueller and Marie Fay, Denver Research Institute, University of Denver
From reviews of previous volumes in the series:
". . . a major contribution to the literature on x-ray analysis . . ."
—Applied Spectroscopy

"The books are highly recommended."
—Analytical Chemistry
The latest advances in every application, as well as theoretical studies, involving x-rays. Topics include: x-ray diffraction and fluorescence, in many aspects and applications; analysis of highly radioactive samples; analysis at cryogenic and at high temperatures, and in vacuum; instrumentation and accessories for new applications; x-ray diffraction in medicine; and numerous other developments.

MAXWELL SCIENTIFIC INTERNATIONAL

Maxwell Scientific International offers librarians everywhere extensive services in providing

- any book or journal published in any language anywhere in the world
- backfiles of scientific and scholarly journals
- a unique, free bibliographic service which furnishes up-to-date information on new books issued by 1,000 publishers throughout the world

The Book and Subscription Dept. is a complete, single source of supply for any current book or journal published anywhere in the world. To save librarians time, effort and trouble, this division offers a complete service in the ordering, shipping and billing of publications available from any country. Both foreign and domestic publications and books can be obtained without delay.

The Back Issues and Out-of-Print Dept. specializes in securing backfiles of scientific and scholarly journals in any language. Complete sets, short runs, single volumes and odd issues are supplied. Immediate attention is paid to all inquiries and orders, large and small. Want Lists, indicating gaps in library holdings, are invited. Collections of duplicates in all fields are bought and sold by this division—lists of material available for exchange or sale are solicited. Large lots are inspected personally. Send now for the most recent MM&H catalog listing hard-to-get back issues (ask for Catalog No. 6, Part II). Special lists also available on request.

The MSI DOCUMENTATION AND PROCUREMENT CENTRE is a new bibliographic facility offered to librarians without cost! It issues current information on the new books of 1,000 publishers . . . simplifies record-keeping by providing new book information on IBM-type cards and constitutes a fast, reliable and economical channel for ordering books and journals from all publishers in the U.S.A. and abroad. If you are not already a subscriber to this free service, you are invited to send your application now.

To take advantage of these highly specialized services offered by Maxwell Scientific International, write today for free details—without obligation.

releases study carrels for maximum use

Assigning a LOK-MOBILE to students with their books solves the problem of limited carrels. Books are safely locked up when not in use, yet always ready for the student to work with at any library table or available carrel. Saves staff time, too, and gives library full control of books. The LOK-MOBILE is equipped with clear plexiglas side panels that enable you to check contents at any time. One side panel opens and has a strong lock with two keys — one for the library and one for the student.

For School Classroom Use
Ideal for assigning books to individual classrooms. Assures safety and control of books on temporary loan from the School Library.

For Public Libraries
For patrons doing major research. Eliminates daily checking in and out of same books, yet keeps them under locked protection when not in use. Wonderful for processing departments, too.
