Why did thousands of educators and librarians purchase an encyclopedia before it was fully published?
Thousands of schools and libraries bought the Encyclopedia International because it promised something they needed. They bought it while it was still being published, because it was Grolier who made the promises. Volume by volume, these promises have been kept:

1. The International is completely new and original—not a revision of an earlier edition or a rehash from other reference materials. It has been written and edited in the 1960's, rather than from the perspective of the pre-nuclear age.

2. The International is totally readable, written to interest and inform the non-specialist; edited by George A. Cornish, formerly Executive Editor, New York Herald Tribune.

3. The International satisfies elementary school students and adults, too, because it is detailed without being dull, complete without being clinical.

4. The International is modern. It meets the needs of today’s students and teachers as established by research and field studies of the Shores (University of Illinois) Survey.

5. The International is authoritative—the work of some 1,800 expert contributors—and produced under the distinguished editorial direction of Dr. Lowell A. Martin, formerly Dean, Graduate School of Library Service, Rutgers: The State University.

Now, with the completion of volume 20, the Index, the promise is delivered in full. This 120,000-entry Index is the work of Sarita Robinson, formerly Editor, Reader’s Guide to Periodical Literature.

To the many thousands of schools and libraries who placed confidence in the integrity of Grolier, we offer thanks. To those who have not yet seen the International, we invite inspection.
