Resourceful reading from Abingdon’s winter list

PREPARING FOR PLATFORM AND PULPIT

John E. Baird. A textbook for people preparing for the ministry. The principles of public discourse are presented in a logical and orderly fashion, making the book ideal for both classroom use and as a self-help tool for the practitioner seeking to improve his speaking. All material is based on sound rhetorical theory and is especially adapted to the requirements of speaking in the setting of the church. In twelve chapters the author deals with selection of speech subjects, organization of material, problems of speech delivery, and much more. Index and bibliography. 224 pages. $4.50

PHILOSOPHICAL RESOURCES FOR CHRISTIAN THOUGHT

Edited by Perry LeFevre. In view of recent developments in theology and philosophy, the question of the relation between philosophy and Christian thought has become increasingly significant. Represented here are four fields of philosophy covered by a leading spokesman sympathetic to its contribution to theology: Process Philosophy by Charles Hartshorne; Phenomenology by Quentin Lauer, S.J.; Language Analysis by Frederick Ferré; and Existentialism by John Macquarrie. An introductory chapter by the editor sets the stage for the discussion. 144 pages. $3

A LITERARY HISTORY OF THE BIBLE

Geddes MacGregor. A marvelous reference volume of the history of the Bible from the Middle Ages to the present. An eminently qualified scholar, philosopher, and theologian shows how advances in biblical scholarship, newly discovered manuscripts, changes in language, and cultural developments made old translations obsolete and prompted efforts to make the Bible available in clear, forceful English. Includes chapters on the Coverdale Bible, Geneva Bible, Bishops' Bible, Douai-Reims version, King James Version, revised versions, and others. Indexed. 400 pages. $7.95

A HUMANIST IN AFRICA

Letters to COLIN MORRIS from KENNETH KAUNDA. This correspondence offers the reader a rare opportunity to share the “thoughts on the march” of the head of state in a newly created country. Kenneth Kaunda, President of the Republic of Zambia, writes to his good friend Colin Morris, missionary and president of the United Church of Zambia and one of the few white leaders in that church. A warm, personable leader, Kaunda writes from a passionate belief in the worth and possibilities of man. His letters give Western readers remarkable insights into man, the African mind, and the future of Africa. 136 pages. $3.50

Announcing nineteenth century English fiction on microfilm

A selected collection of nineteenth century English Fiction will be offered on 35mm microfilm. The initial selection will be based on Michael Sadleir’s XIX Century Fiction, a Bibliographical Record (Cambridge, At the University Press, 1951; 2 Vols.), but the collection will not be restricted to titles recorded by Sadleir. In general, the specific editions recorded by Sadleir will be filmed, but significant editions not recorded by Sadleir will also be included.

The price of the film will be 1¼ cents per page. A minimum of 50,000 pages will be furnished each year. Charter subscribers are offered the film collections at an annual expenditure of $625.00.

Catalog cards covering this collection will be offered.
