Dictionary Catalog
of the
MISSIONARY RESEARCH LIBRARY

WE ARE PLEASED to publish this catalog of one of the world's largest collections of materials bearing upon Christian missions and related subjects. The following information has been provided by Dr. M. H. Harrison, Acting Director of the Missionary Research Library:

The Missionary Research Library was established in 1914 under the leadership of Dr. John R. Mott, following upon the World Missionary Conference at Edinburgh in 1910. It has been carried on through the cooperation of many foreign missions boards and in later years of the Union Theological Seminary. It is at present located in the tower of the latter institution at the corner of Broadway and 120th Street.

The collection contains works on the history and theory of missions; non-Christian religions and ideologies; the environment of the missions in the lands of the "younger churches"; international affairs and world trends as they affect the Christian mission and its strategy.

There are more than 100,000 catalogued items in the collection. Of these, more than 70,000 are bound books. The library also contains reports of missions and other institutions, pamphlets, and a large number of files of periodicals, both bound and unbound.

More than 800 periodicals are currently received. Archival materials include the preparatory papers for the Edinburgh Conference of 1910; the reports on China of the Laymen's Foreign Mission Inquiry of 1930; letters of John R. Mott, Robert E. Speer, and many others.

The printed catalog will contain author and title cards as well as entries under subject headings. In the case of prominent authors on missions there are listings of both their independent works and their significant contributions to periodical literature. Periodicals and reports will be found in a separate listing in the latter part of the catalog.

This catalog provides an extensive bibliography of many different aspects of missions and information about many rare and significant works.

The 273,000 cards in this catalog have been reproduced by offset on Permalife paper with 21 cards per 10" x 14" page. The 17 volumes are bound in Class A library binding.
First Supplement to the Library Catalog of the New York State School of INDUSTRIAL and LABOR RELATIONS, Cornell University

This supplement, covering material cataloged between August 1, 1966 and December 14, 1967, contains all features of the basic catalog, which provides comprehensive coverage of the core areas of labor management relations, human relations in industry, personnel, social insurance and employee welfare, labor economics, labor union organization and administration, labor history and international labor conditions and problems. Author and subject entries for selected articles from periodicals have been included in addition to entries for volumes, important pamphlets and documents.

Estimated 18,000 cards, 1 volume

Price: $110.00

First Supplement to the Dictionary Catalog of the Library of the
BERNICE P. BISHOP MUSEUM, Honolulu, Hawaii

This is the first supplement to the library catalog of the only American museum devoted entirely to the study of the Pacific region. Holdings of the museum trace the development of civilization in Polynesia and the adjacent areas of Micronesia and Melanesia. Concentration of interests is in cultural anthropology, archaeology, botany, marine zoology, malacology, entomology, music, recording of linguistic material, astronomy, bibliography, and publication. The catalog is arranged in dictionary form and the Library of Congress system of cataloging has been used.

First Supplement, 1962-1967, to the Dictionary and Auction Catalogues of the Library of the AMERICAN NUMISMATIC SOCIETY, New York City

This is the first supplement to the complete library and auction catalog files of the Library, published in 1962, which marked an important milestone in the history of numismatic research and scholarship. By adding approximately 18,000 library card entries, alphabetically arranged in a combined author and subject index, together with approximately 625 entries representing the important auction catalogs acquired since 1962, this supplement brings up-to-date the material—numismatic books, pamphlets, periodical articles and auction sales—contained in the original seven volumes.

Estimated 18,500 cards, 1 volume

Price: $60.00

First Supplement, 1963-1967, of the
Catalogue of the COLONIAL OFFICE LIBRARY, London

This supplement covers material added to the library from 1963 until the end of August 1967. It includes material on Commonwealth countries after independence; on many other countries, particularly in Africa, Asia and Latin America; and also on a wide variety of subjects which do not have any obvious colonial connection. Materials recorded in the catalog include books, pamphlets, reports, official publications, periodical titles, periodical articles, etc. classified by the Library of Congress system and cataloged using L. C. subject headings. The catalog is arranged in two sequences: authors and titles, alphabetically, and classified order.

18,700 entries, 1 volume
