This superbly organized guide to the literature of the social sciences is a prime selection tool for collection development and as a guide for reference librarians, scholars, and students. As the 2d edition of the 1964 publication, this work has been extensively augmented, revised, and updated to include books published through 1972. It contains an expanded index with a thorough subject approach and adds a chapter on geography.

In addition to an outstanding introduction to the study of social science bibliography that concentrates on leading interdisciplinary works, subsequent chapters deal individually with the literature of history, geography, economics and business administration, sociology, anthropology, psychology, education, and political science... all held in focus by repeated cross-references. Each chapter is prepared by a leading subject and reference specialist.

Immediate access to our collections of Early English Books is better than a sabbatical in Great Britain—although perhaps not as much fun. Students and faculty alike will enjoy the benefits of doing research from primary sources when they are in your library.

Our collections include almost all the titles listed by Pollard and Redgrave in their "Short-Title Catalogue . . . 1475-1640" (STC I), and by Donald Wing in his "Short-Title Catalogue . . . 1641-1700" (STC II).

Through the cooperation of libraries in Great Britain and the United States, we are photographing the titles from these two authoritative bibliographies, and making them available to the academic community on 35mm roll microfilm and as bound, xerographic copies. Included with the microfilm are guides listing the collections’ contents by reels, and cumulative cross indexes by STC number.

These primary sources for the study of Tudor and Stuart times are issued serially as additional titles are photographed. They are a very economical way for your library to increase its holdings dramatically—without the need for elaborate storage facilities or an increased budget.

Further information about these collections can be obtained from the Series Product Manager, Xerox University Microfilms, 300 North Zeeb Road, Ann Arbor, MI 48106.
