MAN'S LOT

A Trilogy/photos, text and poetry by Walter Kaufmann

Shattering preconceptions of what philosophy should be, this three-part philosophical work uses images as well as words to analyze the human condition. Together, Walter Kaufmann's intense photographs and incisive text make an incomparable book for meditation and reflection—a book to return to again and again.

The 3 separate volumes are available as follows:

LIFE AT THE LIMITS

Kaufmann takes as a starting point a topic most philosophers have avoided—life in extremis. He explores ways in which poverty and suffering open our eyes and help us change our lot. Eighty pages of color photographs reveal the variety—and unsuspected beauty—of life at the limits.

TIME IS AN ARTIST

Time is the most critical element of man's lot. Kaufmann develops his philosophy of time by contemplating time's effects on nature and art. Seventy-two color photographs show time's artistry in nature and time's work in art.

WHAT IS MAN?

Self-knowledge is the aim of all philosophy. In this final volume, Kaufmann examines ideas of man from Socrates to Sartre, and contrasts these concepts with nearly 200 utterly human photographs of men, women, and children from all over the world.
