called for rather than presentations of data in tables and graphs. Suggestions for further research are included in the discussion section (p. 111). In addition to further research, more explanations of the data presented in a readable fashion would make the publication more widely consulted. A good list of references is included. An index would help readers locate information in the text. Library statistics are always useful for forecasting trends and planning future needs in addition to supporting expansion of facilities, increased staffing levels, and more. If research library statistics are needed, this report may help.—Susan C. Awe, Northern Arizona University.

These are the qualities needed by academic librarians facing the challenges of the 1990s. The Hugh C. Atkinson Memorial Award Endowment encourages the development of leaders possessing these important qualities through the annual recognition of a librarian with the vision to carry us into the 21st century.

Your contribution will ensure the endowment’s continued ability to give this award. Your gift is important. Please send in your donation today.

Yes! I want to contribute to the development of leaders for tomorrow’s libraries by giving to the Hugh C. Atkinson Memorial Award Endowment. (Your contribution is tax deductible to the extent allowed by law.)
