

She is on the editorial board for Cataloging and Classification Quarterly. Her professional interests also include abstracting and indexing and she was Assistant Editor of ASI Newsletter from 1986-88 and is currently President of the Connecticut Chapter of the American Society of Indexers. She has served as a library consultant and was a member of an accreditation committee for the New England Association of Schools and Colleges in 1990.

LORI KEENAN is Director, Moscow-Latah County Library System, Moscow, Idaho. Prior to that she held the position of Head of Extended University Services Programs at Washington State University. Ms. Keenan has written articles on adult learners and interlibrary cooperation for off-campus programs. She holds an MLS degree from the University of Missouri at Columbia and is active in the Idaho Library Association.

JAMES J. KOPP is Library Applications Specialist at Software AG of North America, Inc. in Reston, Virginia. He previously was Systems Librarian and Acting Assistant Director of Technical Services and Collection Management at Washington State University (WSU) in Pullman where he participated in planning for library services at three WSU branch campuses.

LYNN LABRAKE-HARRISON is Associate Director of Libraries, The University of Central Florida in Orlando. She served as Vice-Chair (1986-87) and Chair (1987-88) of the ACRL Extended Campus Library Services (ECLS) Discussion Group, and also served as a Member of the ACRL Task Force to Revise the 1981 ACRL Guidelines for Extended Campus Library Services (1987-90). Currently, she is Chair of the Planning Committee and on the Executive Committee of the Extended Campus Library Services Section (ECLSS). She edited a Directory of Agencies Collecting Statistical Data from College and University Libraries for the Library Administration and Management Association (LAMA) Statistics Section, Statistics for College and University Libraries Committee, published by LAMA in 1986.

BARTON M. LESSIN is presently Assistant Dean of the Wayne State University Libraries, Detroit, Michigan. An advocate of equitable library services for off-campus patrons for over ten years, he has written and spoken frequently on various aspects of this subject. He initiated the Off-Campus Library Services Conference and served as editor of its first four volumes of proceedings. His monograph of "classic" papers from that conference is in press (Scarecrow). Mr. Lessin is currently Chair of ACRL's Extended Campus Library Services Section.

COLLEEN J. POWER is Coordinator of Library Instruction and Regional Services at California State University—Chico. Ms. Power's publications include papers given at the Off-Campus Library Services Conference, including "The Online Catalog and the Extended Campus Library Student (Reno, 1986) and "A Survey of the Extended Campus Library Programs in the United States (Albuquerque, in press). She is also active in the Extended Campus Library Section of the Association of College and Research Libraries, and served on the 1987-90 ACRL Taskforce on Guidelines for Extended Campus Libraries.

HOWARD L. SIMMONS is Executive Director of the Commission on Higher Education of the Middle States Association of Colleges and Schools in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. Dr. Simmons received his Ph.D. in Higher Education at Florida State University, an M.A.T. Russian from Indiana University, and a B.S. in Spanish and Secondary Education from Spring Hill College, Alabama. He is a frequent speaker and writer on higher education and accreditation issues, including the important role of bibliographic instruction and information literacy in the improvement of undergraduate education. He is a member of the National Forum on Information Literacy. Recently he has made presentations on information literacy at meetings of the ACRL/American Library Association, Delaware Valley Library Association, Iowa Library Association, and the Bibliographic Instruction Interest Group of the Maryland Library Association.

ALEXANDER L. SLADE is Coordinator of Extension Library Services at the University of Victoria, British Columbia. Since 1980, Mr. Slade has been active in the area of off-campus library services. His activities include being principal investigator for two major Canadian research studies, co-founder of the Canadian Library Association Interest Group on Distance Education, and consultant on off-campus library services. He has given numerous presentations on off-campus library services at conferences and workshops and has nine publications to his credit, including the co-authored book Library Services for Off-Campus and Distance Education: An Annotated Bibliography (Ottawa, Canada: Canadian Library Association; Chicago, IL: American Library Association; London, England: Library Association Publishing, 1991).

JOHN WILLEMSE is Chief Director, Department of Library Services, University of South Africa, Pretoria, Republic of South Africa.