Research Questions

- Has the University ever considered public outdoor drinking fountains?
- How much would they cost to install?
- How much maintenance would they require?
- Would there be an increase in student fees or tuition?
- What procedures would we take to initiate a serious response from the University?
- Who ultimately makes the decision?

Possible Short Comings

- It would cost the University too much money to install and/or maintain the fountains.
- Students and faculty not interested
