Course Description: This (1) credit course is designed to promote the individual development of each student with regard to the achievement of academic success combined with a clarification of personal and career goals. Course topics will include study skills, time management, career exploration, grading, stress management, communication skills, healthy relationships and more. In addition, students will have an opportunity to learn to work cooperatively in groups and enhance their appreciation of interacting with a culturally and diverse group of people.

Required Text book: Resources as assigned

Attendance Policy: All students are expected to attend class and arrive on time. Extreme lateness will be considered as an absence. Since this class meets only once a week, three or more absences will constitute a failing grade. Attendance may also impact advisement/registration for the following semester (to be discussed in class). Please see me if there is an extenuating situation or family emergency which is impacting your attendance.

Grading Policy: Students are expected to attend class, participate, be prepared, respectful to all, and complete all class and homework assignments. Assignments will not be graded with a letter grade (A, B, C etc), but will be marked with a check as completed. The final grade for the course will be a combination of attendance, homework submitted, and the Final Exam. Extra credit can be earned by submission of proof of attendance of campus events apart from those listed in the syllabus. Students may need to repeat the course if they receive a failing grade.

Office Hours: Students who wish to speak to me about ST or academic issues are welcome to schedule an appointment by calling the office number above. Students may also see me during my walk-in hours (to be discussed in class).

If at any time you are struggling with a personal issue, you are encouraged to speak to any counselor in the Counseling Center. If you prefer to speak to someone off campus, you can call 1-800-LIFENET. This is a 24/7 free and confidential multi-lingual hotline you can call to talk to someone or get a referral off campus. Please DO NOT share any personal information about yourself with me through email (tigermail). Email is not confidential, and NOT the appropriate way to communicate any personal feelings you may be experiencing.
